

APD update 18-06

January 27, 2023

This recommendation is a good concept. However, it is not feasible for APD to reconfigure each substation. APD has attempted to make each area command substation approachable for the public. Each area command provides bins for food donations for the needy, increasing public visibility and partnership. There are also reception areas within each substation for interaction with the public when needed.